COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Honors English 12 course is a culmination of the Honors English program. The focus of the course is to teach students to be better writers, critical thinkers, and readers. Students become better writers by mastering sentence combining for fluency and variety; using parallel structure; and reviewing the use of commas, semicolons, and colons. Critical thinking is enhanced through the reading of major literary works, developing commentaries on novels, plays, and poems, writing on literary and personal topics, and researching primary and secondary sources.

The Honors English 12 curriculum contains seven units. The first unit focuses on grammar skills and the establishment of a writing portfolio. The second course provides an overview of British literature. These two introductory units are followed by five thematic units which use appropriate selections from British literature. These thematic units include The Quest and Perilous Journey, The Individual and Society, The Disintegration of Order, The Power of the Imagination, and The Paradox of Progress. All pieces of a student’s writing are stored in a Works in Progress folder from which each student selects pieces of writing for his or her writing portfolio. The contents of the portfolio illustrate how each student has grown and improved as a writer throughout the year.
