Counselors are available to assist parents and students with course selections and career planning. Parents may arrange to meet with the counselor by calling the school's guidance department.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This year-long course focuses on the study of big ideas and concepts that make connections between art and life through the disciplines of aesthetics, art criticism, art history, and art production. Students will develop creative and critical thinking skills through the processes involved in drawing, painting, sculpture, crafts, technology, and contemporary media. Art production will focus on more advanced application of materials, ideas, and techniques. Students will examine world cultures through contemporary and historical art. Students will explore career options in the field of art and participate in various art shows. Students develop visual literacy and twenty-first century skills through written, visual, and verbal expression.
